

Ronald L. Jones, CPA Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

I came to work with Farmers Mutual Insurance Company in October of 1989. I was originally hired to the position of controller. On August 1, 1995 my title was changed to Director of Finance and Information, then on January 1, 1998 my title was changed to Vice President of Finance and Information. On March 1, 2004 I was promoted to my current position of Executive Vice President.

Prior to coming to work for Farmers Mutual Insurance Company I was employed in public accounting. I was first employed by Tetrick, Bartlett & Co. Public Accountants from 1978—1982 and then changed accounting firms and was employed by Parks, Foster & Morris, P.L.L.C.-CPA's from 1982 –1989.

I obtained my BS degree in Business Administration with a specialization in Accounting and a minor in Computer Programming from Fairmont State College in 1977. In November of 1983 I passed the Certified Public Accountants examination..

I am a member of American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the West Virginia Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Our family attends the Gateway United Methodist Church in Fairmont. I serve as treasurer for the church.

My wife, Becky is a teacher at Lumberport Middle School, she teaches 8th grade science. Becky completed the requirements and became a National Board Certified Teacher in December 2007 and was recognized at a ceremony in Charleston, WV in February 2008. Becky won the 2009 Presidents Award for Science and Math teachers for the state of West Virginia..

We have been married since August of 1983 and are the parents of three children, Erik, Kylie and Cory.

Erik attended Fairmont State University.

Erik wants to pursue a career in photography.

Kylie is attending Pharmacy School at the University of Charleston.

Cory is in the “Honors Program” and attending West Virginia University and majoring in civil engineering.
